SARATOGA. SARATOGA, Aug. 24.-THE TRIBUNE special train bearing the regular edition of Sunday morning's paper for northern summer resorts and many interior ints, left New-York at 2:50 a. m., with George W. Marsh as conductor, and Frank Ames as brakeman. The train had a capital run to Albany and thence westward to Utica. Good weather came on during the night and as the bundles of newspapers were large the newsmen must have had a profitable day of it at all points. Certainly they did here in Sara toga, for The Tennus beat The Herald and all other New-York papers into town by about an hour, as usual, and was distributed all over the town long as usual, and was distributed all over the town long before its less enterprising contemporaries had ar-

IN THE CATSKILLS. ALL POINTS BETWEEN KINGSTON AND STAMFORD

SUPPLIED BEFORE EIGHT O'CLOCK. STAMFORD, N. Y., Aug. 24. - The first thing the sun saw when he peeped over the hills at Rhinebeck this morning, at two minutes after five, was THE TRUBU E special steamer, William P. Crane, with huge packages of the regular edition of Thi SUNDAY TRIBUNE piled upon the decks. The sight seemed to please him, for at 5:30 a. m., as "The Catskill special" shot out at Rordout, he climbed up over the mists and beamed most encouragingly upon the enterprise. Kingston was passed eight minutes later, and a big package of TRIBUNES went flying onto the platform. On leaving Kingston the road began to wind up Harley Mountain, and soon the valley may below, the little river Esobus winding like a tangled thread throughout the alternate fields of green and yellow grain, and the white-topped cones of the charcoal burners' evens glistening in the sunlight. Above, the mountain towered, and from the overhanging ledges of the cut long tendrils of honeysuckle swept past the windows of the engine as it shot upward. Frank Tongue was at the throttle and he was evidently driving his little engine for all that it was worth. At 5:52 a. m., West Harley was passed and a big bundle of papers went off for The Overlook. Olive Branch, Brown's Station, Brodhear's Bridge and Shokan were passed in quick succession, and at each station boys were in readiness to seize THE THIBUNES as they landed on the platforms and hurry them off for sale. Mt. Pleasant was reached at 6:16 a. m., and at 6:20 the train drew up at Phenicm. Five minutes delay for water and it was again rushing up hill, and at 6:41 it passed Big Indian, having done the intervening nine mile Big indian, having done the intervening line inter-ing and at 6:58 a. m. Summit was passed at 6:50 a. m., and at 6:58 a. m. Summit was passed and a bundle of papers went out for the Grand Hotel. The dison of 1,000 feet to Stanford was done in less than an hour. Griffin's Corners, Askville, and the Ackerly House, lox-ary, and Grand Gorge sers passed in rapid succession, and at each hundles of papers were thrown out. The train reached Stanford at were thrown out. The train reached Stamford at 7:55 a. m. having, under the guidance of Conductor Augustus Freer, accomplished the seventy-four miles in two hours and twenty-five minutes. No one had cet been to brenafast and the crowd was evidently awaiting the arrival of THE THICKE to garnish the board. The paper was soon all over the town, and discussion of the various bits of news were well under way by time o'clock. Three hours and a laufflinter at 11:15 a.m., the train bringing the other papers came rushing into the depot, but the news was briceady state and everyone had gene to church.

AT POINTS RETWEEN ALBANY AND UTICA. RICHTELD SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 24.-The regular edition of the SUNDAY TRIBUNE arrived at this place at 9:20 o'clock this morning. Packages of TRIBUNES were at once sent to Cooperstown by engons, arriving there at 10:45. It was the only w-York paper on sale there to-day. The run from Albany was made in two hours, stops being bute The Tribunes for Saratoga, Amsterdam and Fonds. A large edition was sent to Johnstown by ov express, thence to Palatine bridge, where it trains were waiting to take papers to Shar Springs. From Berkimer George Green took pack ages to Helmers, seven miles us the long hill, life was met by Lee Luce, of Richfield Springs, with his fast trotter, Bonner, and the bundles were brought there in twenty-line minutes. The edition was quickly disposed of to the auxilians roaders in waiting. Engine 506, with Engineer Harris, Fireman Walers and Conductor Edson, took the train from Albany to Elice. took the team from Albany to Utica.
